

Risk Management – The Role of the Devil’s Advocate in Minimizing Project Risks

Speaker: Alina Vicovan , PMP®

21st June 2018, 17:30 - 20:30 CET in Bratislava, Slovakia

With support from:

Program Description:

“The Role of the Devil’s advocate in Minimizing Project Risks”

Have you heard about the History of the Devil’s Advocate and how it relates to Risk Management? Join us during this session and use the opportunity to discover and know its importance for the project team success. You will learn how to develop skills and a culture of critical thinking for a better risk management, where the role of constructive criticism in risk management can be developed.

Presentation will be in English language.

Agenda:

- 17:30-18:00 – networking and registration
- 18:00-20:00 – presentation & discussion
- 20:00-20:30 – event closure

Location:

Lenovo Slovakia, Digital Park I, Einsteinova 21, 851 01 Bratislava

Access to the building: Lenovo Reception on 2nd floor

Entrance fee:

- Free members of PMI Slovakia Chapter, employees of host company
- 8 EUR payable to our bank account until 19.06.2018
Bank details: (SK69 5200 0000 0000 1347 1629; VS 20180621)
- 15 EUR cash at the event

Register today!

We recommend you to reserve your seat

Any questions? We’ll be happy to assist you at events@pmi.sk.

Alina Vicovan

Proud mother, storyteller, currently in sabbatical year, exploring the world from a different perspective

Short biography of Alina :

- Over 20 years of business experience in FMCG
- Former General Manager for one of the largest multinational companies
- Degree in Computer Science and Finance

ATTEND NETWORK
LEARN
EARN PDUs

Serving project management profession, community, and volunteers under Tatras